With the influx of foreign capital, activation of international exchange, overseas expansion of the company, and by expanding the provisions of international air routes, the activation of the Japanese economy is going to be achieved. In July last year, wide revisions of the law related to foreign residents was conducted and adapted to the era. In this regard, in view of the long term perspectives and residence of foreigners, the introduction of high quality incentives for human resources, not to mention the success of foreign workers, became a huge influence to the local economy.

In addition to this, Japan`s aging society is accelerating, and looking at the current situation of foreign nationals working in the nursing field, the influx of the foreigners will move towards a gain over the multi-field and one can easily assume that this is the place to look forward to. Thus, foreign residents will deepen their knowledge on legal matters as well as basic requirements needed by foreigners regarding Japanese conversation ability and understanding of social structure, and on the Professional Occupation, we will be able to contribute towards the revitalization of the local economy through more advanced human resources.
